INTRODUCTION

PLANNING PROCESS

Columbia County in southeast Washington is rich with parks and recreation facilities and opportunities. The county is composed of prairies and forests, rivers and mountains. The county provides the community with a wide range of recreational activities, but also strives for more. In 2013, Columbia County, the City of Dayton, and the Port of Columbia came together to update all three of their Parks and Recreation Master Plans and to create a single document to be referenced in their comprehensive plans. The following document was created with the help of students from Eastern Washington University, the three jurisdictions, stakeholders, and the community. The purposes of this document are to create a consolidated inventory of recreational opportunities in order to understand the future needs of the community and provide each jurisdiction with a Parks and Recreation Element in their comprehensive plans to be referenced and utilized for funding opportunities. The plan also provides a detailed inventory of parks and recreation lands for reference.

BACKGROUND & HISTORY

LOCATION & POPULATION

Columbia County is located in southeast Washington, bordering Whitman County to the north, Walla Walla County to the west, Garfield County to the east, and the state of Oregon to the south. The county has two population centers, the City of Dayton, and the Town of Starbuck. Dayton has a population of 2,526 and Starbuck 129, based on the 2010 census. The county has a total population of 4,078.

IMPORTANCE OF HISTORY

The history of Columbia County is apparent in many of the parks and recreation opportunities. Columbia County was one of the first places settlers came to in Washington. Lewis and Clark camped east of where Dayton is today on their return trip. This rich history is evident in many of the parks and recreation sites and is a point of pride to the people of Columbia County.

PARK & RECREATION TYPES

Columbia County has a wide variety of parks and recreation features serving the local community and visitors seeking outdoor/wilderness or “Historic Dayton” experiences. This inventory includes local, state, federal, non-profit, and privately owned parks and recreation facilities providing a wide spectrum of opportunity that exists in the community.

Three types of parks and recreation facilities are present in Columbia County:

COMMUNITY PARK

Community Parks serve the immediate population in the area. Community Parks vary in size from less than one acre to about four acres. These parks are ideally located within a half mile of residential areas and are safely accessible by walking. At a minimum, Community Parks should have open space and playground equipment.

REGIONAL PARK

Regional Parks serve the entire county and offer recreational opportunities to residents and tourists. In Columbia County, Regional Parks are between two and several thousand acres. These parks offer several different park and recreational opportunities to serve a broad spectrum of the public.

SPECIAL USE FACILITY

These facilities or features are intended to serve specific recreational needs. The size and location of Special Use Areas varies according to use. Special Use Areas include trailheads, snow-parks, ball field complexes, campgrounds, and other specific recreation facilities.

COUNTYWIDE INVENTORY

Parks and Recreation land and facilities owned by Columbia County, the City of Dayton, the Town of Starbuck, and the Port of Columbia are separated into their own section in the document. The following inventory list shows these lands, while also including publicly and privately owned recreation lands within the county. The purpose of this inventory list is to provide the community with a preliminary list of parks and recreation facilities in order to create a guidebook, map, and/or website to provide information on the many opportunities within Columbia County. Condition was determined by site visit and website information.

PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT & NEEDS ANALYSIS

STAKEHOLDER INTERVIEWS

Using a list of stakeholders suggested by each jurisdiction, in person and telephone interviews were conducted. The goal was to uncover areas of concern, interest, and the best parks and recreational assets of Columbia County. A total of 13 stakeholders were interviewed using a guided list of questions as well as general discussion. Stakeholders interviewed were predominately board members, commissioners and council members, with some recreationalists and members of environmental groups.

These interviews provided a great start to the public involvement process. The variety of interest in parks and recreation that exists in Columbia County was quickly revealed through the discussion with each stakeholder.

Some of the ideas most emphasized by stakeholders included:

What are the priorities?

- Attracting tourists
- Improving access and knowledge of parks
- Knowing what we have- an inventory
- Marketing what we have
- Family oriented programs

What are the most valuable parks and recreation features?

- Ski Bluewood
- Hunting
- Fishing
- Historical sites
- The Snake River
- Touchet Valley Golf Course
- Columbia County Fairgrounds

- Recreation programs for youth and adults
- Dog Park in Dayton
- Getting power to Bluewood
- Trails Improvement- Waitsburg to Dayton, expansion of the Dike Path

The notes from the Stakeholder Interviews were extensive, providing insight for determining the best direction for parks and recreation in the County. Please see the attached appendix (A) for the full list of questions and discussion notes.

PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT & NEEDS ANALYSIS (cont'd)

DOT EXERCISE

The dot exercise consisted of three large charts containing a total of 27 photos of parks and recreation activities. Participants were given three sticker dots to place on what they thought were the top three most important activities or features. If there was something missing, participants could write items in as well. The photos included both existing and possible features within Columbia County. 172 Columbia County residents participated in the dot exercise.

WRITTEN SURVEY

The written survey consisted of six questions to better understand the perception of parks and recreation in the county as a whole. The following were the questions used on the survey:

1. Which area do you most identify with? (Circle One)
Starbuck, Dayton, Columbia County, Port of Columbia
2. Do you think there are adequate park facilities to serve the area where you live? (Rate 1 to 5)
3. Do you think there are adequate recreation facilities and options to serve your needs? (Rate 1 to 5)
4. What are the most desired missing assets for parks and recreation in the area? (Write in answer)
5. Which existing parks and recreation facilities should be improved next? (Write in answer)
6. Would you be willing to pay a tax or user fee to support new parks and/ or park facilities and the cost of maintenance? Why? (Rate 1 to 5 & write in answer)

The written survey was offered online through Survey Monkey, mailed to 150 randomized county residents, and in person at both public survey events. A total of 96 surveys were collected.

PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT & NEEDS ANALYSIS (cont'd)

TURKEY BINGO

November 23rd, 2013

The first public survey was conducted at a popular regional event called Turkey Bingo. Every year over 400 people attend this event put on by the Kiwanis Club in Dayton. Two methods of public survey were used at this event: the written survey and the dot exercise. 121 Columbia County residents participated in the dot exercise and 7 in the written survey.

DAYTON HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL GAME

December 10th, 2013

The second public survey was conducted at the first Dayton High School home basketball game of the season against Pomeroy. Both the paper survey and dot exercise were conducted at this location. To increase the participation in the written survey, candy bars were offered to those who completed both the dot exercise and the written survey. 52 Columbia County residents participated in the dot exercise and 51 completed the written survey.

PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT & NEEDS ANALYSIS (cont'd)

ANALYSIS OF SURVEYS

The public surveys conducted at Turkey Bingo, the basketball game, via survey monkey, and by mail-in provided the three jurisdictions with the necessary information on the needs and wants of the community. This information combined with the feedback from stakeholders helped formulate multi-jurisdictional goals and priorities for Columbia County as well as more specific goals and priorities for Columbia County, City of Dayton, and Port of Columbia.

Findings in the public surveys showed the county has a wide variety of available parks and recreation facilities available. The community overall feels there are adequate parks and moderate adequacy in recreation opportunities.

Stakeholders and members of the community identified areas that need improvement or additions through the written survey and through the dot exercise. The residents of Columbia County surveyed were most interested in adding an indoor swimming pool. They also would like to see a large community recreation center to provide meeting and event space, as well as space for indoor sports activities. The members of the county also showed their support for outdoor recreation activities and would like to see them expanded. One of the main concerns of the county is providing information to residents and visitors on where parks and recreation facilities are.

COOPERATIVE MISSION, GOALS, & PRIORITIES

Utilizing the information gathered through the stakeholder interviews, the two public surveys, the online survey, and the mail-in survey, the jurisdictions formed these mission, goals, and priorities. These are meant to be a guiding vision for the cooperation between the jurisdictions to fulfill the needs and desires of Columbia County residents. In the following sections addressing each individual jurisdiction, the demands and needs assessed using public involvement were translated into goals, priorities, and capital improvement plans.

MISSION

The mission of our multi-jurisdictional plan is to provide a framework for development, maintenance, and promotion of parks and recreation amenities within Columbia County.

GOALS

- Increase recreational opportunities, which promote tourism to spur economic development.
- Meet the parks and recreation needs of the county residents.
- Provide equitable access to parks and recreation opportunities.
- Improve and promote existing parks and recreation.
- Regularly review parks and recreation facilities and services to evaluate maintenance requirements and to accommodate the future needs of the community.

PRIORITIES

- Continue to develop recreation paths and trails.
- Develop a recreation map.
- Maintain recreation access to major waterways.
- Maintain recreational access on state and federal lands.

Columbia County

COLUMBIA COUNTY INVENTORY

Columbia County provides a diverse land for parks and recreation. The variety of recreational opportunities gives county residents many options, if they have access to and knowledge of them. Approximately 1500 Columbia County residents live in the county, not in the incorporated areas of Dayton or Starbuck. These residents have a high interest in the recreation opportunities the county provides. While there are several private park and recreation areas in the county, Columbia County only owns and operates the two following facilities located on the outskirts of Dayton, as well as Eckler Mountain Sno-Park.

COLUMBIA COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS

The Columbia County Fairgrounds are located just outside of Dayton. The Fairgrounds include a horse track and pavilions. The 26-acre property hosts a variety of events and recreation activities year round.

TOUCHET VALLEY GOLF COURSE

Adjacent to the Columbia County Fairgrounds is the Touchet Valley Golf Course. The 35-acre golf course is partially in Dayton and in county land just outside the city limits. The 9-hole course features 2,931 yards of golf from the longest tees for a par of 36. The course rating is 35.5 and it has a slope rating of 122. The fairways are open but tree lined, and the small greens are flat.

TOUCHET RIVER DIKE PATH

The Touchet River Dike Path is a special use area pathway that runs along the Touchet River in Dayton and in Columbia County south of the city. It is intended for bike and pedestrian use.

COLUMBIA COUNTY GOALS & PRIORITIES

After evaluating the public surveys, Columbia County created the following list of Goals and Priorities for parks and recreation:

GOALS

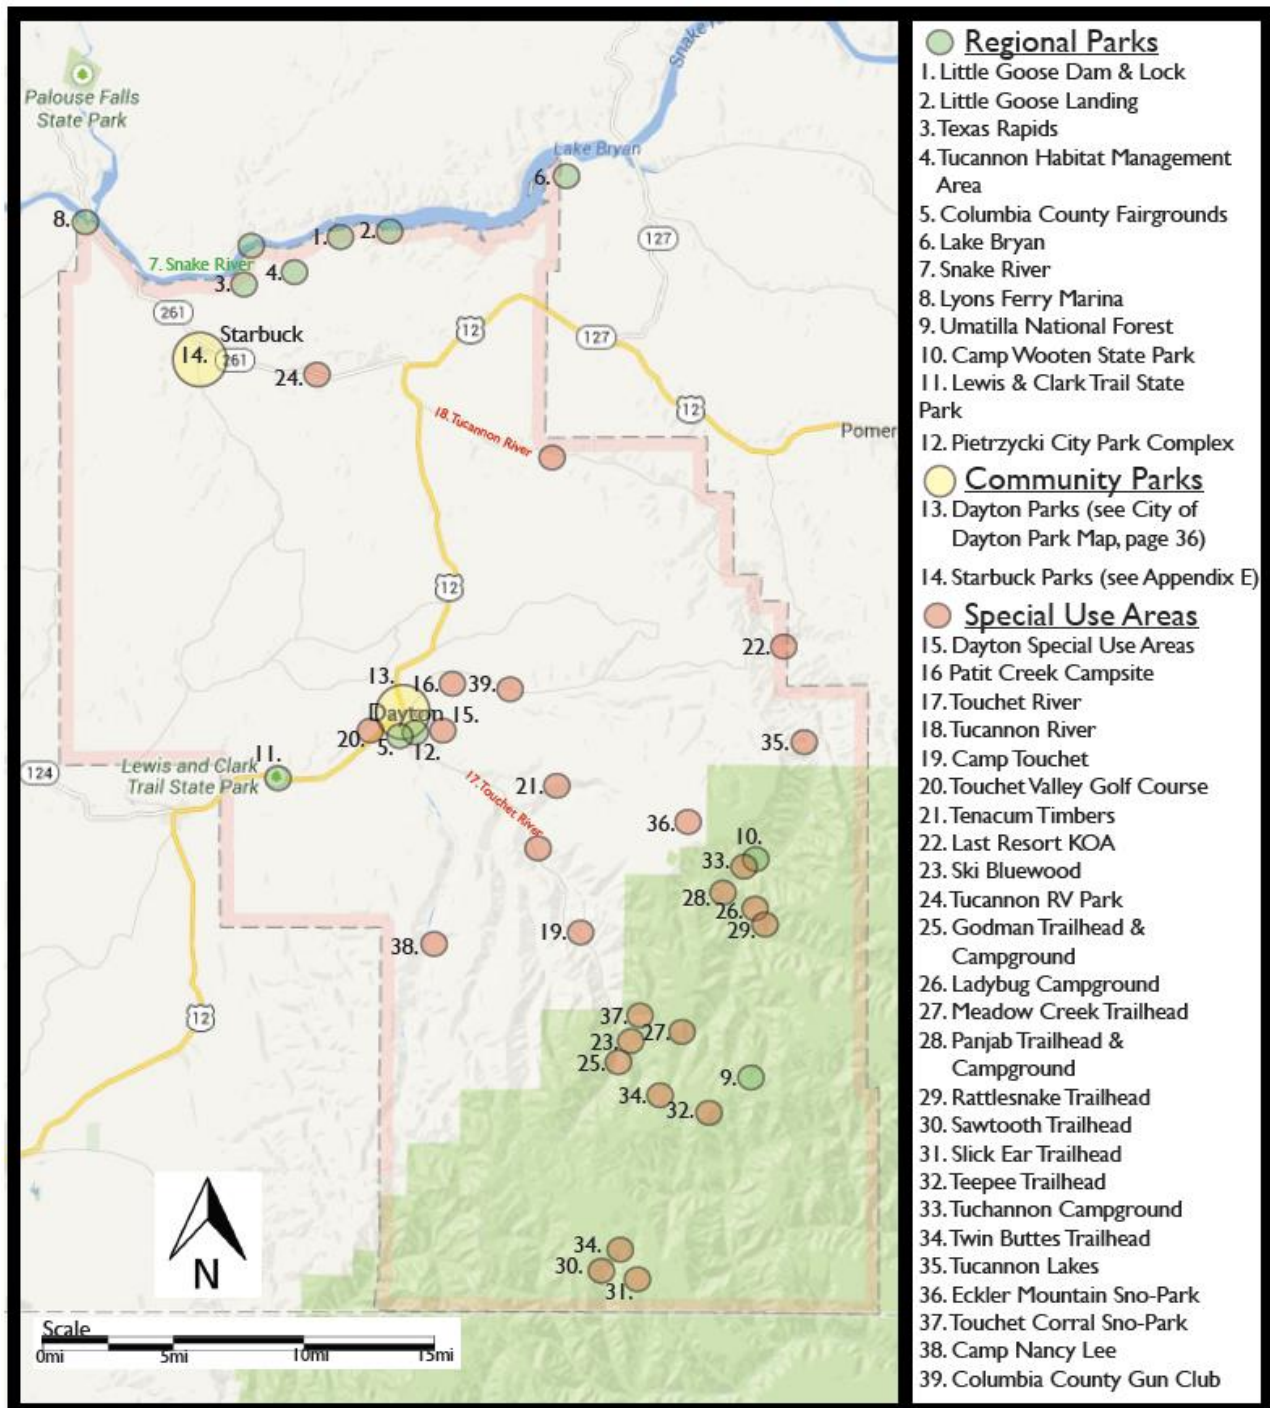

- To maintain and improve access to available recreation areas and activities for residents and tourists.
- Increase the visibility of available recreation areas and activities through a regional recreation map/brochure.
- Maintain acceptable levels of service for county owned recreation facilities
- Explore the viability of a bike/pedestrian path from Dayton to Waitsburg and of a Community Recreation Center.
- Work with landowners who are interested in creating or improving recreational opportunities.

PRIORITIES

- Fairgrounds upgrades, connectivity, and usage.
- Golf course upgrades (irrigation) and visibility.
- Levee path maintenance.

COLUMBIA COUNTY LEVEL OF SERVICE MAP

The following map shows the location of all parks and recreation lands within Columbia County. The green circles represent Regional Parks, the yellow circles represent Community Parks, and the red circles represent Special Use Areas. This map shows the diversity of recreation opportunities available within the county, capitalizing on the water features to the north, historical features around Dayton, and mountain features to the south.

COLUMBIA COUNTY CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PLAN

The following chart shows the projects identified by Columbia County with completion expected by 2020. The X's represent ideal completion date. This chart is part of Columbia County's updated Capital Improvement Plan. (The Columbia County Commissioners, Planning Department and Columbia County Engineers agreed upon the projects listed in the Capital Improvement Plan after reviewing the information collected from public surveys.) The projects listed in the CIP were taken directly from the adopted CIP provided by the County Engineer and ranked by the County Planning Department after reviewing the surveys.

Port of Columbia

PORT OF COLUMBIA INVENTORY

The Port of Columbia is a small county port that operates out of Dayton. The Port leases property along the Snake River from the US Army Corps of Engineers that provides parks and recreation opportunities for residents and visitors on the north side of Columbia County.

LYON'S FERRY MARINA

Lyon's Ferry Marina is located on the Snake River on the northern border of Columbia County. The marina is a total of 17 acres but provides access to 23 miles of river within the county. The site offers camping, RV spaces, day use, a small dog park, an ADA accessible fishing dock, fish cleaning, restrooms, a boat launch, moorages, supply store, and restaurant.

PORT OF COLUMBIA GOALS & PRIORITIES

After conducting public surveys, the Port of Columbia staff developed the following Goals and Priorities:

COOPERATIVE NEXT STEPS

The purpose of writing a cooperative plan is to ensure that this small county is successful in implementing plans and serving the community with excellent parks and recreation features. These next steps provide some guidance to ensure that the three jurisdictions work together efficiently.

1. Form a Cooperative Park Committee that includes representatives from all three jurisdictions or utilize an existing organization to serve this function.
2. Determine the best method for communicating existing park and recreation opportunities to both residents and visitors.
3. Develop a recreation map using information from this plan.
4. Use the inventory and map to maintain access to waterways, state, and federal lands.
5. Work cooperatively to obtain grants and funding, as needed.

6. Would you be willing to pay a tax or user fee to support new parks and/or park facilities and the cost of maintenance?
We are over taxed as it is.
I don't pay taxes (x8
Property tax is too high, would rather see user fees.
A small tax, no user fees.
Fixed income (no taxes).
Yes, because I care.
It should be the states responsibility.
User fee not vehicle + fee.
Because I want better equipment
Would depend on amount of tax.
Because it would help community out.
It would help the youth and future generations.
There is a great need for activities year round that are affordable for kids to keep them involved in an activity- family time as well.
These facilities are important to youth and adults.
We are taxed enough.
I believe there are existing funds. Didn't the commissioners and city/ county employees just get a cost of living or basic 3% raises?
The tax payers in columbia county are too cheap to allow taxation by vote for the school and maybe they would if they thought it would benefit them.

APPENDIX B: TOWN OF STARBUCK, WA

STARBUCK INVENTORY:

Starbuck is classified as a town and is the second incorporated area within Columbia County. It is located about 20 miles northwest of Dayton near the Snake River. The Tucannon River runs along the west side of the town. Starbuck was once a booming railroad town in the early 1900s. Since then, the town has dwindled down to a small population of 129, based on the 2010 U.S. Census.

Starbuck decided not to be included in the main section of this plan, as they have no parks projects planned for the future at this time.

STARBUCK SCHOOL PARK

The park attached to the Starbuck School is a 2 acre park on the east end of town. The park is in good condition and has a playground, baseball field, basketball court, and open space.

STARBUCK PARK

Starbuck Park is uniquely located on the Tucannon River in the south west corner of town. The park is small, but includes a swing set and about half an acre of open space. The park is in fair condition.

STARBUCK TRIANGLE PARK

Triangle Park sits on the north end of town and is in a triangle shape. The park includes a tennis court, basketball court, slide, and open space. This park is in poor condition. The amenities offered are not in safe, usable condition.

TOWN OF STARBUCK LEVEL OF SERVICE MAP

The following map shows the location of the three existing parks in Starbuck.
